How to ask closed questions in French

- Statements usually follow the order SUBJECT-VERB-OBJECT
    - Vous aimez le français
    - Il aime l'école
- Closed (yes or no) questions can be asked in one of three ways
    1. Add a question mark to the statement (+ raise your voice when speaking)
        - Vous aimez le français? →
        - Il aime l'école? →
    2. Put "est-ce que" at the beginning of the statement
        - Est-ce que vous aimez le français?
        - Est-ce qu'il aime l'école?
    3. By inversion (switching) of the SUBJECT and the VERB
        - Aimez-vous le français?
        - Aime-t-il le français? (the "t" is meaningless but necessary: it is always added when a verb ending in a vowel is joined to "il/elle/on")

        * If you want to "invert" someone's name, you use the name first, and then invert the verb and the subject prounoun.
        - Jérome fait les courses.
        - Jérome fait-il les courses?

When to use the Present Tense

- The present tense is used to describe:
    - What you are doing (I am eating)
    - What you normally do (I eat)
    - What you have been doing/have done for some time (I have been eating for…. I have eaten for…)

- Only the context tells you whether je mange means I eat or I am eating. Never attempt to say anything like ~~je suis mangeant~~.

Je lis cette page Je suis à Eton College Nous écoutons le professeur

Elle aime le chocolat Ils jouent au foot le soir Je me couche à 10 heures

J'habite à Londres depuis 5 ans Je suis ici depuis une semaine
