REVISION: Verb forms from Michaelmas

- Make sure you can remember all of the following points about verb forms from this year. References are given to help you.

- How to conjugate in the present tense all the regular –ER verbs given in Mich 1, and AVOIR, ÊTRE and ALLER.

- Make sure that you are aware of and can remember from Mich 3 the present tense spelling changes for:
    - -GER verbs
    - -CER verbs
    - -YER verbs
    - E/É-consonant-ER verbs
    - APPELER, RAPPELER and JETER

- Conjugate in the present tense all of the regular –IR verbs from Mich 5

- Be able to conjugate into the present tense two different sorts of irregular –IR verbs from Mich 5:

    - First 3 or 4 letter stem verbs
    - -IR verbs that use –ER endings

- Learn the irregular verbs MOURIR and VENIR from Mich 5

- Learn the 6 irregular –OIR present tense verbs from Mich 9

- Be able to conjugate regular –RE verbs from Mich 11

- Learn the four irregular present tense –RE verbs in Mich 11

- Learn the 8 irregular present tense –IRE verbs from Lent 3

Comparative/Superlative adjectives: bigger, the biggest

- We already know a lot about adjectives. We know that adjectives in French have to agree, that the vast majority of adjectives go after the noun they describe, though a small number of very common adjectives go before. Some adjectives change their meaning, depending on where they go. Look back to Michaelmas Chapters 7 and 9 if you need to.

- To compare things, i.e. say what is more X or less Y than something else is very easy in French. In English some adjectives have the word "more" put it front of them (MORE interesting) and others have "-er" added on the end "smallER". In French only the first option exists. Simply add "PLUS" in front of the adjective.
  - plus intéressant plus petit

- The adjective goes in its usual place, and agrees as usual
  - un livre plus intéressant une plus petite fille

- To compare one thing with another, simply use the following structures:
  - PLUS adj QUE more…than
  - AUSSI adj QUE as…as
  - MOINS adj QUE less…than
  - ne…pas SI adj QUE not as…as

  - nous sommes aussi polis que vous
    ils sont moins élégants que leur femme
    elle n'est pas si intelligente que toi

- To use a superlative (the bigGEST, the MOST interesting), simply place "LE/LA/LES PLUS before the ADJECTIVE (agreeing with the noun), wherever it comes. To say the opposite, (the LEAST big, the LEAST interesting), simply use MOINS instead of PLUS
  - le livre le plus intéressant
    la plus petite fille
    les moins grandes chaises
- If with your superlative you want to say "IN the world, IN the room" etc, French uses DE rather than "dans".
  - La plus jolie fille de la classe
    Le journal le plus lu du monde

- Finally a couple of essential irregular comparisons and superlatives:
  - good/bad better/worse the best/the worst
    bon meilleur(e/s) le/la/les meilleur(e/s)
  - mauvais pire le/la/les pire(s)
    (* or plus mauvais) (*or le/la/les plus mauvais(e/s))