85 What three things does DEVOIR imply?
What is the cardinal rule about what sort of verb form will follow it?

TRANSLATE:

We must have seen	I will have to see	She was due to come
We should have eaten	They ought to have helped	He must have seen
I always used to have to sing	I had to speak	I should listen

How do you translate OUGHT TO HAVE BEEN VERBING?

She should have been reading	We should have been listening
You shouldn't have been looking!	They ought to have been sleeping.

When DEVOIR denotes strong probability, how can you differentiate between using the IMPERFECT and the PERFECT to translate a MUST HAVE VERBED structure?

The girl must have read the letter.	The letter must have been very long.
The meal must have been expensive.	She must have been sick afterwards.
The house must have been empty.	The parents must have gone out.

86

We gave it up.	She pleases him.	She was pretty but I resisted her.
I am thinking about it.	I was not expecting it.	I look like them.
